WOMEN TO GET VOTE IN ST. PETERSBURG

UPREME COURT FAVORS NEW AMENDMENT WOULD CHURCHES JOIN EVENING DARKNESS CAUSE OF THE PINELLAS COUNTY TAKE DOWN BARS SERVICES ACCIDENT

Without Payment of Poll Tax

ST. PETERSBURG, April 19.-(Special.)-Voters of the city, whether men or women, can vote in future city elections in St. Petersburg if an amendment proposed at the meeting of the city charter board, last night, is approved by the people at a special election. The charter board did not act finally on the amendment proposed, not being permitted to do so under lis rules, but it is apparent that the nine members all favor granting suffrage to women in city elections. In order to make the amendment valid and legal, in that it eliminates women from payment of poll taxes, the proposed amendment to be submitted to the votors, will also relieve men from payment of poll taxes in city elections. This will throw down the bars so that anybody who is registered may vote. The addition of the women votors and letting all men who are registered vote means that in city elections here there will be a tremendour increase in the number of voters and several polling places will be needed at every city election.

The charter board took no definite action last night on any proposition but received a flood of suggestions regarding charter changes. George 8. Gandy proposed an amendment providing for forfeiture of office of any city official or employe who takes part in politics. Two suggestions for the creation of a diffector of public safety were received, seach to take from the mayor the control of police and fire departments. Major Lew B. Brown suggested placing fremen and police under the control of a board of public safety.

L. D. Childs proposed an amendment allowing the levying of a tax of two mills, which would raise about $38,000 for advertising purposes and several amendments were suggested regulating the park, advertising and library and hospital boards to require them to handle accounts and pay bills through the regular city channels. Two amendments were proposed to establish a board of health. One communication suggested tax on cats and allowing bleycles to use the sidewalks of the city. The board will meet next Friday night finally to approve the equal suffrage amendment and to take action on other important clauses in the charter.

Work on the new church building of Work on the new church building of the First Baptists here will be started next month and it is hoped to have the building finished in time for use in the fall. The church will cost $50,000 and will be located on Fourth street north across from Williams park. An enthusisatic meeting of the congregation was held last night at which plans were discussed and it was decided that there is now enough money on hand and pledged to permit of the work being started right away. The lot is owned by the church and an old frame building, now used as a chirch, occupies the property.

Culpapper has long been in evangelistic work and is known all over the land by reputation. Other churches of the city will join the Methodist in the endeavor to make this series of meetings of the greatest good to the community, and will not hold their usual evening services today, and probably not while the tent meetings last. It is anticipated that many from Tampa and surrounding towns will attend these services.

Plant City's business circle is likely to be enlarged by the addition of the naval stores enterprise of Musselwhite & Entzminger. They are now operating in the Knights and Trapnell sections near here knights and Traphell sections near here and will in the near future establish one or more still nearer Plant City, together with business offices in the city. The firm is well known in the naval stores business, having been long established and operating largely in Seminole county.

The past week witnessed the advent of two new dealers into the ranks of Plant City's fruit and vegetable buyers. H. B. Wardehoff, long associated with the business activities of the city, has entered this field. William B. Coulbourn is the second new buyer. He is a son of W. T. Coulbourn, who has made a success in this line since coming here two years ago. The younger Mr. Coulbourn has recently returned from France, where he was in the "treat 'em rough" service, as the tank corps is called. Before entering the service he had extensive experience in the line which he now enters.

The vegetable market is gradually assuming larger proportions and car lot shipments are increasing, while express shipments continue large. Prices remain at a high level, though not so high as last week. The range per package now being from $1 to $4 for most articles, though yellow squash still are in such strong demand as to run about $4. Cabbase has at last broken, but still brings $3.50 per crate or better. Strawberries have almost quit moving, but many growers report a new heavy bloom, and it is expected that there will be considerable offerings of berries for the home and nearby markets in a week or two.

SENATE MESSENGER IS INJURED IN BAD FALL

ACCIDENT

Lantern Nightly at Dangerous Corner

TALI.AHASSEE, April 20.—(Special.)—
Before Tallahassee had finished one week of lightless nights, there happened at least one severe accident that can be attributed to the utier darkness alone. Friday night about 11 o'clock the apparently lifeless body of a man was found by a party of motorists, lying near the curb of the southeast corner of the capitol at the intersection of Adams and Pensacola streets. The light from the car as it turned the corner revealed the prostrate form and the occupants of the car stopped to investigate. The man was a stranger and was found perfectly unconscious. Physicians were summoned, who advised that he be carried to a neighboring boarding house until his dentity could be determined. It was found upon further investigation that a leather bag of senate mail was also lying near the curb. Then it was apparent that the unconscious man was the messenger of the senate, J. A. McKinnon, of Walton county.

The cause of the accident is easily attributed to the fact that in stepping from the curb to the street in the blackness of the night he missed his footing in such a way that his head struck the brick pavement, fracturing his skull. It is just today that Mr. McKinnon's condition (a considered out of danger. For over twelve hours after the accident McKinnon remained unconscious. At this particular corner of the capitol the city authorities have since seen fit to place a lighted lantern, which burns nightly. (By Herbert Felkel)
